New River Area Plan Update

UPDATE! Maricopa County continues to analyze your ideas and recommendations gathered at the first two community meetings and collected from community surveys as it works to complete the DRAFT New River Area Plan Update.

Once the draft update is complete, Maricopa County will host another community meeting, currently anticipated for mid-June, to get community input on the draft plan. Maricopa County appreciates the continued support and contributions from the New River area community as this plan update progresses, and for helping to provide a future vision and direction for years to come!
